I saw two children fighting with each other. It was scary, but two days later I saw one of them riding a bike with the other playing, talking and laughing. In real life, the couple divorced on impulse after quarreling, and then regretted, but because of the face, they are too embarrassed to speak, but they are not as good as their children?

There is a "chess king" here. He loves playing chess very much. In order to improve his chess skills, he traveled around the country for six years and finally won the title of "chess king".

I wonder how much it cost him to travel for six years. Whom did he seek to improve his chess skills while traveling? How did he achieve it in a strange place?

In fact, when a person has an ideal and goals, these are not a problem.

I am very angry about one thing: I saw a person sitting in the rickshaw, when the driver got off pulling the car off the bridge, and he was sitting in the car with two legs and thigh crossed, leisurely playing with a mobile phone! I don't expect him to get out and give him a push, but at least he should get down! What is more hateful is that he turns a blind eye to the criticism of those around him!

I'm angry about it.

I was learning to write Chinese characters in a calligraphy class. At the end of the school day, the teacher asked the students to pick up the paper from the floor. When I looked down to pick up a paper, I noticed that the kid in front of me had kicked the paper under his seat under mine with his foot. He thought I didn't see it. I said nothing but silently picked up the paper.

Now some people's quality is so bad that I don't want to add a word.

"A jade mouth in China, a roof to get married", "although wearing the dress, my heart is still Chinese heart", I am often touched by these patriotic songs. Nowadays pop songs are almost always about love. Anyway, I haven't found an exception yet. There is nothing wrong with it, but I have never heard of the purity of love. They have no such skill. I just think they are playing to the gallery.

It's been 37 degrees in a row these days. The heat is unbearable. But this afternoon, lightning, thunder and rain poured down and washed out a cool world. After the rain stopped, the breeze blowing fresh air, let a person get rid of the sultry depression, the mood also followed up.

In the same way, if one has heat and poison in one's heart, if one can have a downpour in one's heart, then all the wounds will be gone.

Welfare lottery USES people's lottery money to engage in welfare undertakings, but this is not in essence the pure motive of using people, to be exact, the motive of using people is to get rich, but not the welfare undertakings with sincerity. Such money, if it could be used at all, would stink of copper. But there is no better way to get people to pay than by giving them the opportunity to get rich.

It's a sad business.
